Dissension in Union Ranks Is Rumored

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Reported dissension in union ranks gave officials of the railway brotherhoods in Chicago considerable anxiety today.

T. A. Gregg, vice-president of the Order of Railway Conductors, met representatives of conductors on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, who, according to officials of the road, Friday voted to disregard the strike order if it is not rescinded.

While Mr. Gregg and the conductors discussed the situation, Timothy Shea, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and James Murdock, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, conferred with a score of minor officials.

Mr. Shea before the meeting denied rumors of dissension.

miles from the border, and of a town north of Kronstadt.

The Austrian communication indicates that the new offensive of the Russians in Bukovina and Eastern Galicia was inaugurated over a wide front. In one sector along north of the Dniester river, the Russians advanced along a line of fifteen miles. Their assaults failed, Vienna announces. It was in this fighting that the Russians, according to yesterday's Petrograd communication, took more than 5,000 prisoners.

Tentons Resisting

"The new Russian offensive in Galicia has resulted in further advances in the direction of Lemberg and farther south, near the Hungarian frontier," the Petrograd war office announced today. Violent fighting is under way. The Austrians are resisting desperately, but their counter-attacks have been repulsed everywhere.

The Bulgarians renewed their attacks last night along the western end of the Macedonian front. The French war office asserts they were repulsed by the Serbians.

The Germans attacked the French on the Somme front last night and re-occupied trenches south of Estrees, taken recently by the French. A small British gain near Delville wood is announced in London.

BULGARIAN GENERAL ENDS LIFE OVER DELAY IN MOVE ON RUMANIA

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Reports have been received in Amsterdam that General Jostoff, chief of the Bulgarian general staff, committed suicide because of Bulgaria's delay in declaring war on Rumania, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from that city.

Dispatches from Sofia, which reached Amsterdam Friday attributing General Jostoff's death to appendicitis.

HOME BUILDING CAPACITY TAXED BY NEWCOMERS

One Company Sells $50,000 in Residence Property in Two Weeks.

Fully 50 percent of the new houses under construction at present in Oklahoma City are being occupied by people from outside points, it was stated this morning by H. D. Chandler, of Nichols & Chandler, which company has under course of construction more than a score of residences in the northwest section of the city.

In making his statement Mr. Chandler cited several specific instances. Elmer E. Smith, banker and oil man of Dustin, Okla., he said, has occupied a new $7,000 building on West Sixteenth street; a second residence recently constructed and valued at $7,500 is to be the home of W. B. Stowers, a grain dealer of Kansas City. It is located on West Twenty-fourth street.

Two Others Coming

George Heroux of Dover, Okla., recently moved into a new home valued at $12,500, constructed by Nichols & Chandler, while W. R. Dick, former warden of the state penitentiary at McAlester, but now engaged in the oil business, is to occupy an $8,500 residence on West Sixteenth.

Mr. Chandler said that he had either sold or begun construction of high-class residences valued at $50,000, in the last two weeks.

Rented Homes in Demand

Rental property in desirable locations is at a premium, and even apartment houses are filled to capacity.

Construction of hundreds of new residences during the winter will be necessary to care for the newcomers to Oklahoma City.

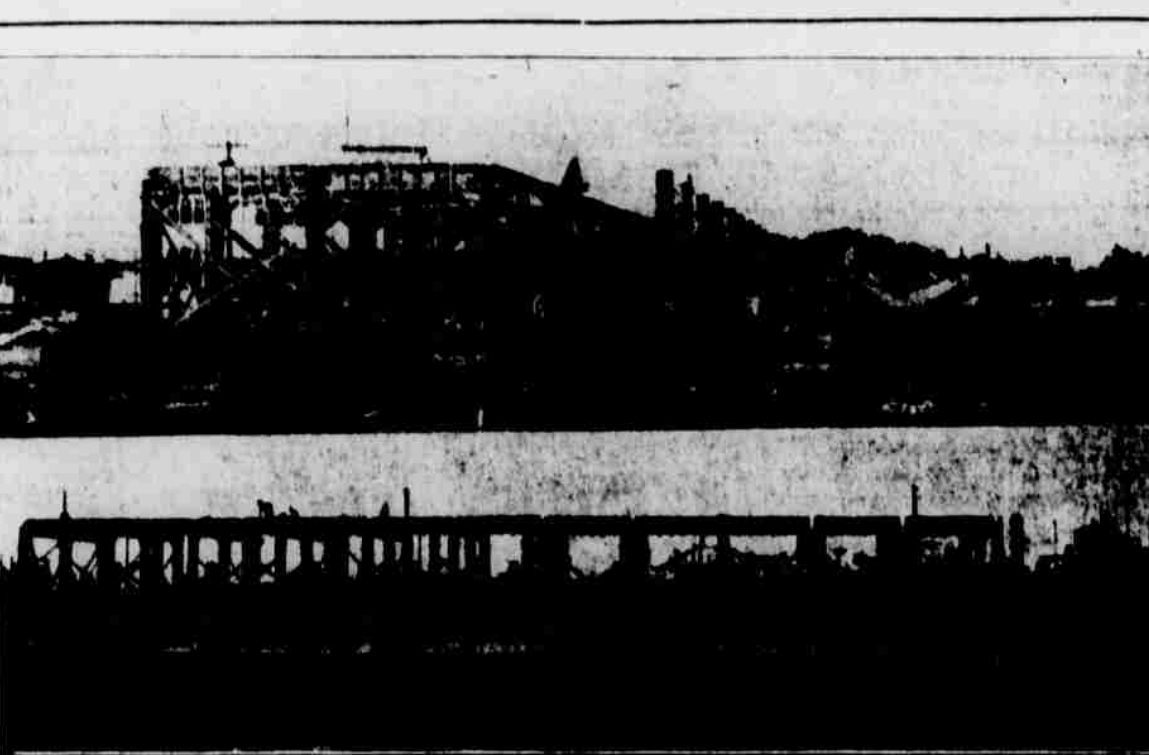

Electric Employees At Pittsfield Out

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 2.—About 4,000 employees of the General Electric plant dropped their tools and left the plant on a strike at 9 o'clock today as a protest against conditions at the plant. The strikers marched through the principal streets of the city to the city common, where a mass meeting was addressed by international officers.

Greece Asks That Relics Be Respected

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Greek government has sent a note to the belligerent powers, says a dispatch from Athens dated Friday to the Exchange Telegraph company, asking them "during military operations in Greek territory" as in event of a siege or bombardment to preserve the ancient monuments and other national treasures.

WHAT YOUR TICKET BUYING IS HELPING TO BUILD

Two Views of the State Fair's New Grandstand in Course of Construction. The upper picture shows an end view and the lower the front of the new edifice.

The above cuts are of the new reinforced concrete grandstand being built at the Oklahoma State Fair grounds to replace the wood structure burned in one of the most spectacular fires in the city's history. Funds are being raised by the sale of tickets to the State Fair to pay for the building.

The new grandstand is 400 feet long and 80 feet deep and will have an elevation of 54 feet at the back. It is placed forty feet from the race track and its seating capacity will be as great as the wood building it replaces.

Extraordinary Award

A bronze medallion, six inches in diameter, will be set in the concrete of the grandstand, probably near the west entrance. It will bear the likeness, name and record of the young lady whose team of boys and girls sells the greatest number of tickets in next week's drive.

The grandstand and concession hall were the only buildings at the sixty-one owned by the State Fair which were burned. Erroneous impressions to the effect that the entire fair grounds were ruined have been spread over the state.

In Time for Fair

The Lick-Dinning Construction company of Oklahoma City, contractors for the grandstand job, reports that it will have the work completed in ample time to assure its being used during the fair.

not a few of our own people, thank God! whose fortunes are invested in great properties in Mexico, who yet see the case with true vision and assess its issues with true American feeling.

The rest can be left for the present out of the reckoning until this enslaved people has had its day of struggle toward the light. I have heard no one who was free from such influences propose interference by the United States with the internal affairs of Mexico. Certainly no friend of the Mexican people has proposed it.

Striving for Right

"The people of the United States are capable of great sympathies and a noble pity in dealing with problems of this kind. As their spokesman and representative, I have tried to act in the spirit they would wish me show. The people of Mexico are striving for the rights that are fundamental to life and happiness—(5,000,000) oppressed men, overburdened women, and pitiful children in virtual bondage in their own home of fertile lands and inexhaustible treasure. Some of the leaders of the revolution may often have been mistaken and violent and selfish, but the revolution itself was inevitable and is right. The unspeakable Huerta betrayed the very comrades he served, traitorously overthrew the government of which he was a trusted part, impulsively spoke for the very forces that had driven his people to the rebellion with which he had pretended to sympathize. The men who overcame him and drove him out represent at least the fierce passion of reconstruction which lies at the very heart of liberty; and so long as they represent, however imperfectly, such a struggle for deliverance, I am ready to serve their ends when I can.

More Interested in People

"So long as the power of recognition rests with me, the government of the United States will refuse to extend the hand of welcome to anyone who obtains power in a sister republic by treachery and violence. No permanency can be given the affairs of any republic by a title based upon intrigue and assassination. I declared that to be the policy of this administration within three weeks after I assumed the presidency. I here again vow it. I am more interested in the fortunes of oppressed men and pitiful women and children than in any property rights whatever. Mistakes, I have no doubt made, in this perplexing business, but not in purpose or object.

All America Looks On

"More is involved than the immediate destinies of Mexico and the relations of the United States with a distressed and distracted people. All America looks on. Test is now being made of us whether we be sincere lovers of popular liberty or not and are indeed to be trusted to respect national sovereignty among our weaker neighbors. We have undertaken these many years to play big brother to the republics of this hemisphere. This is the day of our test whether we mean, or have ever meant, to play that part for our own benefit wholly or also for theirs. Upon the outcome of that test (its outcome in their minds, not in ours) depends every relationship of the United States with Latin America, whether in politics or in commerce and enterprise. These are great issues and lie at the heart of the gravest tasks of the future, tasks both economic and political and very intimately interwoven with many of the most vital of the new issues of the politics of the world. The republics of America have in the last three years been drawing together in a new spirit of accommodation, mutual understanding, and cordial co-operation. Much of the politics of the world in the years to come will depend upon their relationship with one another. It is a barren and provincial statesmanship that loses sight of such things."

Reviews New Laws

At the outset of his references to the legislative achievements of his party the president enumerated the laws placed on the statute books relating to business including tariff revision, anti-trust laws, revision of the banking and currency system, rural credits, rehabilitation of the merchant marine and creation of the federal trade commission.

"What other party has understood the task so well or executed it so intelligently and energetically?" he asked. "What other party has attempted it at all? The republican leaders apparently know of no means of assist-

Bits of Wilson's Acceptance Talk

I SHALL seek to purge my heart and purpose of every personal and every misleading party motive.

The people are not likely to substitute those who promised to render them particular services and proved false to that promise for those who have actually rendered those services.

The democratic party has merely done its duty. It has merely fulfilled its explicit promises. The republican party was put out of power because of practical failure and moral failure.

American business and life and industry have been set free to move as they never moved before.

We have in four years come very near to carrying out the platform of the progressive party as well as our own.

Mistakes I have no doubt made in this perplexing business (Mexico), but not in purpose or object.

We have proved to the American people that our promises are made to be kept.

Americans, pressing for things they never have got in their own country.

Doctrine Hard for Some.

"The Mexican people are entitled to attempt their liberty from such influences; and so long as I have anything to do with the action of our great government I shall do everything in my power to prevent anyone standing in their way. I know that this is hard for some persons to understand; but it is not hard for the plain people of the United States to understand. It is hard doctrine only for those who wish to get something for themselves out of Mexico. There are men, and noble women, too.

Imports of Gems Set New Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Imports of diamonds, pearls and other precious stones to the aggregate value of $5,335,714 at this port during August shows where some of the war profits are going and establishes a new record. Thus far this year the importation of gems total $35,433,811, nearly $9,000,000 in excess of the total in 1915.

Record of Promises Kept

At the conclusion of his review of the party record the president declared: "This extraordinary recital must sound like a platform, a list of sanguine promises; but it is not. It is a record of promises made four years ago and now actually redeemed in constructive legislation." Then later he said: "We have in four years come very near to carrying out the platform of the progressive party as well as our own; for we are also progressives."

The president's address was 5,000 words long, one of the most lengthy he has delivered on any occasion since taking office.

Home Covered With Flags

More than 10,000 persons, including democratic leaders from all parts of the country are in Long Branch for the day. A drizzling rain fell throughout the morning but it did not dampen the spirits of the assembled democrats.

President Wilson rose early and spent the afternoon shaking hands with party leaders and renewing friendships with New Jersey members of his party. The president's magnificent white summer home was covered with American flags and from the tall flagpole floated the flag of the president of the United States.

Chairs Accommodate 5,000

Chairs to accommodate 5,000 persons were grouped in a semicircle about the house and there was room for 20,000 more within hearing distance of the president's voice. A temporary addition to the veranda has been erected as the president's speaking stand.

Members of the notification committee headed by Senator James of Kentucky arrived here in a body from New York this morning. Because of the necessity of taking action today in congress to avert the threatened railroad strike, Speaker Champ Clark and a few other members of congress who had planned to come were forced to remain in Washington.

British Censor Mail for Manila

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 2.—The Dutch steamer Arakan, which has arrived here from Java, reports that the British censors of war Cadmus halted her in the Sibutu passage and conveyed her to Sandakan, Borneo, where she was quarantined. The Manila mail on board the Arakan was seized and censored overnight, but the mail for Hong Kong, Nagasaki and Yokohama was not molested.

British cruisers have seized recently in the eastern waters mail for Manila consigned to certain business houses there.

Not too late yet for that vacation trip.

It's cool and pleasant in the northern cities, and there're diversity of things to do and see—the theatres are open, the shops attractive, the public parks are at their best.

September's a fine month to spend in sight seeing.

Why not spend two or three weeks in New York, Chicago, St. Louis or Kansas City. The price of a round trip ticket is nominal and you can suit your purse by the distance you travel.

If you do go—take a through "Katy" sleeper from your home town to St. Louis, Kansas City or Chicago. You'll find the service just what you want and the time well spent enroute.
